Question No. 1

Does this project require chemical treatment (such as flocculants, coagulants, and emulsions) of the material to be settled?

Response No. 1

The County does not require any chemical treatment for the dredging operation or as pertains to de-watering and disposal at the landfill. Standard floating silt screen and water quality monitoring for compliance (if necessary) are used. De-watering typically occurs off-site at approved location without use of any chemical treatment.
